NUMBER 50

GREEN REYNOLD'S STORE ROBBED.

The Thieves Caught at Cane Valley and Lodged in Jail Tuesday Night of Last Week.

BEFORE THE COURT, EXAMINATION WAIVED.

Monday night of last week the store house of Mr. Green Reynolds, who is doing business at Ozark, this county, was entered by thieves and a number of articles stolen. Mr. Reynolds did not know of the robbery until Tuesday morning when he entered his store. Goods were missed and there were other evidences that his place of business had been visited by robbers. Telephone lines were at once put to work, every little town in the county being notified.

Tuesday night two young men struck Cane Valley. They were strangers, and Town Marshal Clarence Page's suspicions were aroused, and while they were eating supper at R. B. Wilson's hotel, he entered the dining room and arrested them. Both men had grips and a gun each. The grips were opened and found to contain the articles, razors, suspenders, a watch, etc., taken from Mr. Reynolds store, which he subsequently identified as his property. Mr. Page and a posse of men brought the accused to Columbia Tuesday night and lodged them in jail. Wednesday afternoon they were brought before Judge Hancock. They waived an examination and were remanded to jail, their bail being fixed at $300 each, which they are not likely to give. One of the men gave his name as Charley Perkins, the other one Otter Dick. Their final trial will not come up until the January term of the Adair Circuit court.

After the Reynolds robbery it developed that the same men had entered Mr. Kill's residence, located several miles above Mr. Reynolds' store, had been entered in the afternoon and several articles taken. These also were found in the possession of Perkins and Dick making two cases against them.

Spoke Factory Burned.

The spoke factory which was the property of Mr. Henry Coleman, Lebanon, and located near the Columbia Roller Mill, was consumed by fire last Tuesday afternoon about 2 o'clock. There was a great many spoken in the building and some other lumber and the loss is estimated at several hundred dollars. The building caught from a spark from the engine of the roller mill.

Revival Meeting At The Christian Church.

W. H. Pinkerton will be here Thursday evening the 21st inst. to begin a series of meetings to continue two weeks. Everybody is invited to join in with us, to make it a successful revival. Miss Mayne Depp will be here by the 23rd inst. to lead the chorus. A special invitation is given to all the singers in town to join, in making these services helpful.

The Pike to Green County.

The News has time again called attention to the importance of building a pike from Columbia to the Green county line, but no definite steps have been taken. The Green county people only have about three miles to build to reach the Adair county line, and in order to meet them we will only have about seven and one-half miles to build. We will have to cross Russell's creek and a bridge will be necessary, but the Fiscal Court of Adair has made an order, appropriating one third of the cost of building the pike, provided the expense will not go over $15,000. If the road can be built for that amount of money, and many believe that a less sum will do the work, one third of the amount is already secured. It does look like a few active men could raise the remaining ten thousand dollars in a short time. It should be raised by the formation of a company and stock issued. There is not a question but the pike would pay, then why not get to business? This county needs another route to the railroad, and to secure it a little time will have to be given to this proposed pike, and some money subscribed to carry it into effect. The road is a necessity. Will the people of Adair county do their duty toward building it?

Two Whiskey Vendors Caught.

James Cross and Ed Means, who claim Clinton county as their home, are now in the county jail, charged with selling liquor. For some time the good people in the lower edge of this county have been greatly annoyed by liquor sellers. Last Tuesday the word reached town that parties were on Hickory Ridge, selling. Deputy Sheriffs, F. H. Winfrey and Sam Mitchell were soon en route for the place, and about dark the above named men were caught. They had a barrel of liquor which was found in a corn crib, showing that the parties slept with their liquor.

Cross and Means were brought to Columbia and lodged in jail. Wednesday they were brought before Judge Hancock, and not being ready for trial the case was set for Friday.

Friday when the case was called it was announced that an agreement had been reached whereby Means was to pay a fine of $120 and Cross $60.00.

The son born to the wife of Mr. T. C. Davidson on the 14th of September lived only a few days.

A Card

KNIFLEY, KY., Oct. 15, 1909.

To The Voters of Adair County:—

When Mr. J. M. Wolford and myself were candidates for the nomination for Assessor of Adair county, I was asked in every part of the county if Mr. Wolford had been voting the prohibition ticket. I would not answer the question. I would tell those who asked me to investigate some other source as I wanted to treat him fair, but since it developed that he does not respect me or his oath either, I make the following statement for the benefit of the public: I can prove by as good men as there are in Adair county, both Republicans and Democrats, that J. M. Wolford has for several years been voting the prohibition ticket, and farther more, he has stated that if he won the race or not was out of politics for all time to come. If any person or persons doubt these statements I only ask them to come to me and I can take them to as good men as this county affords and prove every word that I have stated. Now I ask every reasonable thinking voter that is in this county to ask himself question is it right to turn a man down who is running on the ticket that he claims to belong to, or take up a man who pretends to belong to the Republican party and votes the prohibition ticket. Now believing that every citizen who has the normal right to all and exclusive privileges to none will support me, I remain, Yours truly, W. J. Bottom.

Mr. L. L. Rounds will remove from this town to Russell Springs. Mrs. Rounds having accepted a position as music teacher in the college at that place. The family will leave Columbia with the best wishes of many friends.

Mr. Eber Mees of this place, has bought the old Joel Tupman farm, lying three miles from Columbia, from Jo Tupman. Consideration, $1,300.

Old Kentucky Home.

The following poem was composed by Mrs. J. H. O. Smith, sister-in-law of Mrs. Z. T. Williams, and was read by Mr. Smith in his address on Kentucky day at the State Fair in Oklahoma City. The Oklahoma paper in commenting on it said "That she is from Kentucky is obvious." But the facts show she is a native of Illinois. Down in old Kentucky Stalwart men and plucky, Fought for home and hearthstone and a place Far from king or master, Of true aristocracy a race. Read Kentucky's glory A flame in song and story Her heart romantic, chivalrous and brave, Her only aim, protecting The gems of her selection— The sweetest homes that human heart can crave. You are mighty lucky To be born in old Kentucky, Where every drop of native blood is blue. Where friendship glows eternal, And every man is a colonel, And every woman's heart is sweet and true. Other States may flatter, Boast and brag and bluster, Claim success and wealth and froth and foam, We're content in having Just the simple, loving, Cheerful, happy "Old Kentucky Home."

The post-office will hereafter close at 7:30 p. m. instead of 8 p. m.

Wanted.—Butter, 20c per pound; Irish potatoes, 60c per bushel, and cabbage at the Lindsey-Wilson.

The Recital.

Miss Edna David, teacher of expression, and Miss Eliza Gibbs, who is the instructor in music, drew a large audience to the Lindsey-Wilson chapel last Saturday evening. An interesting program had been made out, and all who attended were well paid for "climbing the hill." As a reader, Miss David is easy and graceful, and as an imitator she ranks with the best. Her selection from Victor Hugo, "Jean Valjean and the Bishop," was given so perfectly, that one familiar with "Les Miserables" could see the two characters.

Miss Gibbs plays and sings delightfully, and upon this occasion she was given an ovation when she first appeared upon the stage. As a pianist, she ranks with the skilled, her soft and delicate touches bringing praise from all her hearers. She has a melodious voice and sings beautifully.

This was the first time these young ladies ever appeared in public here, but the compliments they received upon this occasion is a guarantee that an appreciative audience will front them in future entertainments.

Miss Lina Rosenfield played the accompaniments for Miss Gibbs and received much praise from the appreciative listeners.

Card of Thanks.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist Church takes this method of expressing thanks to any who contributed to the success of their Pie Social last Friday evening. We would make special mention of the officials of the Court-house who so kindly rendered assistance by allowing us the use of their offices.

For Sale or Rent.

My residence in Columbia, Ky., also have household and kitchen furniture that I will sell privately. 50-21 W. H. McCaffree

Double Wedding.

Last Sunday afternoon, at the Methodist parsonage, Mr. E. L. Sinclair and Miss Laura Rosenbaum were united in marriage in the presence of several relatives and friends. Mr. Sinclair is one of Columbia's business men and is well known in this part of the country. The bride is a young lady who has many friends and is well educated, having taught in the public schools of this county. At the same time and place Mr. W. E. Finn and Miss Ella Bell were married. Rev. B. M. Currie officiating in an impressive ceremony.

Columbia Graded School.

Friday ended the first month of the school with an enrollment of 178. The daily attendance is almost exactly the same as the number enrolled. Each week brings a few more children to the merry crowd and by the end of the second month no doubt the shouts of over two hundred voices can be heard from the hill. The school began with four teachers but the school board was compelled, on account of the attendance, to secure the fifth teacher, Miss Berenice Rickman, of Hopkinsville, Ky. The school is under splendid discipline. The teachers have their work well arranged. The students are interested and working faithfully. This year bids to be even more successful than the most hopeful had predicted.

The Ladies of the Columbia Baptist church gave a Pie Social, in the court-house last Friday afternoon and evening and the attendance and receipts were gratifying to all interested. Nearly all kinds of pies, rich and palatable, were ready to suit the taste and appetites of the many who attended. The Ladies contemplate some improvements to the church and the amount received from the liberal hearted people who spent their time and dollars will aid in their undertaking, while each and every one received full value and a pleasant time.

TAKEN UP:—3 hogs came to my place about Sept. 1st, 1909. One black sow, will weigh about 190 lbs, marked crop off each ear; Two spotted sows will weigh respectively 40 and 90 pounds, both unmarked. Do Your Own Fishing.

The world is a great pond filled with fish, and your chance of getting fish is just as good as that of your neighbor. You must use the right kind of bait, and you must have the requisite amount of patience. Don't change your location every other minute. Stay where you are. The fisherman who is first on one side of pond, and then on the other, never goes home with a good catch—of that be well assured. Remember this: You must do your own fishing. You will never catch any fish standing around looking at your neighbor while he does his fishing however longingly you may look at him. If you expect fish you must get them yourself. Cutting bait is good but it does not produce results like holding your own fishing rod and going "after them." No one can take your place. The requisite strength you may not have at first but it will come by the use of what you have. One fish caught by your own efforts is better than a score caught by the skill of some one else. Catch them yourself and you have something more than the fish—you have a realization of your own strength and your own resources. Do your own fishing.

'The Rule For Longevity.

Mrs. Rebecca Hutchinson, of Jerseyville, Ill., cooked dinner which was served at her home to near relatives on her ninety-third birthday.

To her guests who marveled at her health and strength she gave her rules of longevity. They are: Go to bed early. Get up early. Eat plenty of fruit.

"Don't eat when you are sick. By following these rules she has contrived to get along the past 60 years without taking any medicine.

With her rules of living she mixes a wholesome philosophy.

"It is a very funny world, after all," she says.

"If you look for sunshine you'll find it, and if you look for clouds you will find them."

Victim of Cruel Bunco Game.

Mrs. Florence Neely, a widow, traveling with two baby girls, from Burnside, Ky., was the victim of a bunco game while on a Queen and Crescent train, near Oakdale, Tenn. The husband of woman died several weeks ago, leaving her with two children in destitute circumstances. Some time ago she moved to Burnside from a country place back in the mountains, and very recently a brother in Madison, Ark., sent word for her to come to that place and reside. She sold all her household goods for enough money to buy a ticket to Chattanooga and have $20 left.

Coming down on the train the two children become hungry and were attracted by the wares carried by the news "butcher." She offered the newsboy the $20 bill in payment of a purchase, but he did not have the change. A stranger sitting across the aisle volunteered to secure the change saying he could get it in the next car. He went ahead and returned in a few minutes, handing her a bill and saying that he could not find the change.

Arriving in Chattanooga she offered the bill to payment for her supper, and found that the bill returned to her by the stranger was a Confederate note.

Man of Many Limbs.

The old colonel was spinning off yarns of the civil war and in the heat of reminiscent patriotism his memory became somewhat tangled.

"Ah, gentlemen," he related seriously, "I shall never forget the charge at Chickamauga. It was there that I lost my leg." Ten minutes later the old colonel was relating an incident of Gettysburg.

"And when we climbed Little Round Top the bullets were whistling on all sides. It was there I lost my leg."

And 30 minutes later through a misty haze of smoke:

"Seven Pines, gentlemen, Seven Pines! Ah, that was the battle. One of my legs was shot from under me and—"

But just then a timid little boy looked up and asked shyly: "Grandpa, were—were you a centipede in those days?"

When a man sits down all day he should be willing to give up deceit.

Rev. T. J. Wade Transferred To Montana.

Rev. T. J. Wade pastor of the Adairville Methodist Church has been transferred to Deer Lodge, Montana. He left Tuesday at 6 a. m. A good size crowd of all denominations and many of no denomination gathered at the Railroad Station about 5 a. m. to bid him and his consecrated companion God speed on their departure. Rev. John Bass Shelton, pastor of the Baptist Church led in farewell service and Rev. A. J. Francis read some appropriate scriptures. Prayer was read by several and many spoke in effectionate terms their sorrow at the departure of Brother and Sister Wade. He has only been in Adairville one year but in that short time much good has been accomplished by him and his ever devoted wife.

It can truly be said that "He was a good minister of Jesus Christ," as was ever shown in his immaculate character, by which all ministers of Jesus Christ are chiefly known, if well known, and he was beloved of all and well known. To say that he was perfect would be to say that he was not human; but to say he has been pre-iminent among our lives, is only to give him and his wife the tribute they deserved and have merited. His character was not marked by any one conspicuous, overshadowing excellency, but by the blending of many; so that there was symmetry. There is in him the grace of proportion. There are no corners, crevices and angles in him. The intellectual does not overtop the moral and emotional. His strength blended with gentleness. He is not an enthusiast but an earnest man. He makes men think and his sermons are never dull, but quicken and comfort his hearers. He is a good pastor. Here his gracious nature comes into loving contact with other natures. He has the power of sympathy and godly conversation in an unusual degree, both of which are essential to successful pastoral work. One of his members has said: "It almost paid to be sick and have him come and read and pray with you."

His report to the Conference this year was complete. Nothing left undone that should have been attended to.

Deer Lodge is about 40 miles from Helena, the capital of Montana. It is an important field, has about 3000 or more inhabitants and is a wide-awake Western town.

Rev. Wade and his estimable wife will both be remembered long and lovingly here, and we expect to hear great and good things from them there.

The above was clipped from the Adairville Enterprise. Rev. T. S. Wade was born in Russell county, Ky. He lived in Columbia, Ky., when he joined the Louisville conference, and was at one time a student in the L. W. T. S.

To Iron Soutache.

You may be confronted with no little perplexity when ironing a linen frock with white or colored soutache braiding. First stretch the embroidered parts to remove all wrinkles and iron right over the braid to smooth it. You will not be pleased with the appearance of the linen beneath but turn the garment, lay the embroidery upon a double or triple thickness of a white Turkish towel which will permit the braid to sink into its soft surface and the back of the linen can be smoothly ironed by passing a damp cloth over the linen following it with a medium hot iron. Iron all parts perfectly dry or they will wrinkle again and be very unattractive. Iron embroidery scallops in the same manner and clip any loose threads that may escape from scallops or edges. A pair of manicure scissors is good for this purpose.

Much Like Waste of Time.

A benevolent old gentleman, brimful of information, saw a rustic sitting on a fence, gazing earnestly at the telegraph wires. Going up to the countryman, he said:

"Waiting to see a message go long, eh?"

The man grinned and said, "Aye."

The benevolent old man got on the wall, and for the next quarter of an hour tried hard to dispel his ignorance.

"Now," he said at last, "as you know something of the matter, I hope you will spread your knowledge among your mates on the farm."

"But I don't work on a farm," replied the rural citizen.

"Where, then, may I ask?"

"My mates and I are telegraph linemen, and we are testing a new wire."—Pearson's Weekly.

Hardwood Floors.

The best hardwood floors for every day usage are those which are either waxed or oiled. A floor that is shellacked as a great many hardwood floors are does not wear well. It shows the marks of boot nails and is easily scratched. Unless it is carefully covered with rugs it is as much of a nuisance as carpeting. The waxed floor is really the ideal floor for all rooms except the kitchen. The ordinary oiled floor is the best for the kitchen, where there is so much hard usage. It does not show boot marks and can be easily washed. It will often remain, under ordinary conditions, very clean and neat looking for half a year or more, without renewing the oil. The proper oil to use is boiled oil; and it should be rubbed into the floor until the pores are filled with it. In time it becomes oxidized, so that a permanently glossy surface is produced.

This and That.

By a large majority the Burley tobacco growers voted that the pool should be continued this year, and that the books should be kept open until October the 20th.

A boy has just been born at Atlanta that is the thirteenth child of a thirteenth child on its mother's side, and the seventh son of a seventh son on its father's side.

Representatives of 11 governments will attend the 18th annual meeting of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States, to be held in Washington this week.

The Pulaski county, Ark., grand jury returned an indictment against W. Y. Ellis, charging him with murder in the first degree for killing N. P. Willis, of Indianapolis, Ind., in the circuit court room in Little Rock several months ago.

What Women are Doing.

Mrs. Isaac L. Rice, of New York, was chosen at the recent conference in London of the International Society, for the Suppression of Street Noises to have charge of the second congress of the society; which is to be held in New York in 1912. The first congress is to meet in Berlin in June 1910.

The girls of the Boston public schools are to have an opportunity of taking part in outdoor sports on the same terms as their brothers when the school term begins this autumn. Outdoor games and gymnastics will be made part of the curriculum just as soon as playgrounds for girls can be fitted up. Baseball, basketball, running, jumping and all sorts of other games will be taught.

Mrs. William Butler, of Bristol, R. I., the Sunday after celebrating her eighty-ninth birthday, delivered an address to the congregation of the Bristol Methodist Church in behalf of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. Mrs. Butler is well-known in the Methodist Church as a pioneer missionary in India and Mexico. She received many congratulatory messages on her birthday from friends in India and Mexico.

Mrs. Arthur J. Slade has been elected secretary of the Ely Club of New York and has charge of the clubhouse, which is to be opened this fall for the benefit of women studying for a profession. The Ely Club is made up of graduates of the Ely school and the clubhouse is to be on West Ninety-seventh street.

The Late Potato Crop.

The late potato crop in this section of the State is reported seriously endangered by long dry spell. Potatoes have been planted for more than six weeks and should be nearing maturity. However, the vines are small and in most cases thin and sickly. Unless there are copious rains, followed by warmer weather, within the next two week the late crop will be practically a failure. This same state of affairs surrounded the late crop last year. In consequence seed potatoes this year sold at record prices. In the early part of the season, weather conditions were ideal and the early crop was of excellent quality and afforded a heavy yield and prices got very low.

Two More Sentenced.

Green and Walker Skaggs were tried at Munfordville and given ten years each in the penitentiary for robbing Mrs. Katherine Layman at her home near Highbaughs Mill in Hart county several weeks ago. They plead guilty. They were not tried for robbing T. E. Layman. Smith Oaks was given ten years for robbing T. E. Rayman, and was dismissed in the case of robbing Katherine Layman, as he confessed. Dave Vass, who was implicated in the crime by the Skaggs, will probably not be tried at the present term of the Hart Circuit Court.

The Sheriff of Hart county with several deputies arrived here seven prisoners including the Skaggs brothers and Oaks. They were confined in the Hardin county jail Friday night and taken to Eddyville for confinement Saturday.

The Medicine Men.

Bill—Did you ever try my doctor? Jill—Oh, yes; don't you remember when I was sick such a long time?—[Yonker's Statesman.]

The Young Doctor—Just think; six of my patients recovered this week! The Old Doctor—It's your own fault, my dear boy. You spend too much time at the club.—[Life.]

"And now that you are finished with college, what are you going to do?" "I shall study medicine." "Rather crowded profession already, isn't it?" "Can't help that. I shall study medicine, and those who are already in the profession will have to take their chances, that's all!"—[Pick-Me-Up.]

"Do you believe surgery can ward off old age?" "Oh! yes. Frequently the patient dies under an operation."—[Public Ledger.]

Big Trade in Export Cattle.

Montgomery and Bath counties have had a big trade in export cattle for the last three months. The shipments from Mt. Sterling during this period have amounted to 4,600 head, including cattle bought in Bath and brought to Mt. Sterling for shipment. The cash money paid out for those cattle amounted, in round numbers, to $420,000. It has been one of the biggest years for fat cattle that this section has had for some years. Feeders and handlers have made good money. Feeders think next year's business will be even larger than this year.

Come to Earth, Please.

The North Pole discovery will put a lot of "explorers" out of a fat job. But we are glad the agony is over. The South Pole also having been practically located and the conquest of the air achieved, while the automobile craze is gradually simmering down to rational conditions, it is hoped that we may all settle down to earth in the enjoyment of the milder forms of pleasure, that are possible with the horse. It is of course likely that somebody may open communication with Mars next, but we submit that we've been "up in the air" long enough, with sensational doings, to feel like falling back to the traditionally natural things such as riding and driving.—Rid-and-Drive.

How To Feed Hens.

There is a knack in the feeding of hens that must be learned by experience. The hens must be well fed, and yet should always be a little hungry during the day. They are not satisfied, but in the evening they may be fed all they will clean up readily. It is a long standing custom of poultrymen to feed hens a mash once a day, and this may be fed morning or evening, according to convenience. At the Kansas Experiment Station evening feeding has been found profitable. Where meat and green feed are well provided the feeding of a mash may be discontinued, fed at intervals, or dropped from the bill of fare entirely.

A Woman's Age? Forget it.
Man has no right to question woman's age—to even think about it. A woman, bless her, is as old as she makes out or makes up and not a day older. Man is out of his latitude when he begins trying to locate woman's age longitude. It is her privilege to conceal her age in any form or manner she may choose, and it is man's prerogative to assist her as much as possible rather than hinder or question her in any way. Man owes it to himself to see that she is supplied with every means of concealing her age or any new wrinkle which she chooses to keep from the gaze of the overcurious public. Man is not supposed to be young or beautiful. He couldn't be if he wanted to be and wouldn't be if he could. With woman it is different. She wants to be and can be and is, whether she pretends to be or not, and it is a whole lot better for her and for her admirer or admirers, as the case may be, that her age be carefully guarded and that the charming veil of mystery which should ever be hers by right of possession. Forget that she has an age, brother, and you will be happy and so will she, but don't, for heaven's sake, forget that she has a birthday.—Boston Herald.

The Fighting Editor.
The fighting editor is no joke in Paris. There, if a paper calls a man a liar or a thief, the man takes it seriously, and, visiting the office, he demands a retraction or a fight. It is the fighting editor who receives the blows. The fighting editor sits in a Louis Seize study, smoking a cigarette and reading a new novel with a yellow cover. He is fantastically dressed in deep black—the duelist's color. The ribbon of the Legion of Honor is in his buttonhole. His brilliant eyes and clear skin preclude his perfect condition. His alert, supple carriage shows his military training. The fighting editor never writes a line, but is responsible personally for every word in the paper every day. On a plain, outspoken sheet like Le Matin, which keeps him pretty busy, his salary is very large—$40 a week, or so. A conservative journal like Le Temps, having little use for a fighting editor, pays the man no more than $20.—Exchange.

Buttered Bread With His Thumb.
Cat's meat is the only survival of a way of serving meat that has come in this country before the introduction of forks, for it was the custom in mediaeval times to serve roast meat on a spit and to pass it around the table for each guest to cut off what he liked, a method that did not allow one person only to secure the carver's titbits. In France one still finds children livers and bacon served on small spits, and to the Britisher it always suggests at first sight the food of the domestic cat. It is probable that many people continued to prefer fingers to table utensils, even after these were perfected and in general use, for knives were certainly invented at the period when Charles XII. chose to butter his bread with his royal thumb.—London Chronicle.

A Wave of Water.
There is no necessary connection between the advance and retreat of the forward movement of the water composing it, as may be seen by running the fingers along the keys of a piano. An inverted wave travels along the keys merely move up and down. Similarly a wave may often be observed running along the ripe ears of golden grain, while the stalks are firmly rooted in the soil. The onward progress of a sea wave is easily perceptible, and by watching some children substance floating on the surface the fact is revealed that the water is not moving with the same velocity.—Chambers' Journal.

A Hint and a Hump.
A woman there was, and she wrote for the press, as you or I might do. She told how to cut and sew a dress and how to cook many a savory mess, but she never had done it herself, I guess, but none of her readers knew. She told how to comb and dress the hair and how out of a barrel to make a chair—would adorn any parlor and give it an air—we thought the tale was true. Oh, the days we spent and the nights we spent, with hammer and saw and tack, in making a chair in which no one would sit, which no one could possibly sit, without a creak in the back.—Economic Housewife.

A Legal Query.
Tired of the long winded oratory of the attorney for the defense, the judge interrupted him. "Mr. Sharke," he said, "may I ask you a question?" "Certainly, your honor. What is it?" "Language," said the judge, "we are told, is given to conceal thought or words to that effect. Inasmuch as you don't seem to have any thought to conceal, I would like to know why you are talking?"

Not Misfits.
Mrs. Crimmonbeck—it seems strange to me, if matches are made in heaven, that there should be so many unhappy marriages. Mr. Crimmonbeck—Oh, you forget it is the matches that are made there, not the misfits.—Yonkers Statesman.

In the Parlor.

"They praise the man in this house for being so handy," said the Door, "but he has me all unbalanced."

"He gives me a pane," ejaculated the Window.

"He simply unstrung me," said the Blind.

"He's got me all out of shape," complained the Curtain.

"He took altogether the wrong tack with me," sneered the carpet.

"Why don't you do as I do, and just take a stand?" said the Table.

"It's well for you to talk, but my wrongs are deep-seated ones," sobbed the Chair.

"I have an idea," burst out the Clock. Let's go on a strike!"

She Almost Remembered.

Little Josephine, aged four, was intently studying the pictures in a book and seemed very much interested in a picture of Charles Dickens.

Taking the book to her mother, she inquired who it was.

"That is Dickens, dear," said her mother.

The picture was wonderfully fascinating to the little girl, and when her big sister came from college in the evening she ran and got the book, turned to the picture, and said:

"Sister, see? This is a picture of Mr. Darn."

Her sister replied, "No, dear; that is Mr. Dickens."

"Well," said Josephine, "I knew it was some kind of a swear word."—Delineator.

Tobacco Statistics.

Total sale of leaf tobacco on the Louisville market from January 1st to September 30th, 1909 were 64, 212 hhds. against 50,568 hhds. sold during corresponding period of last year. Of the total sale 32,048 hhds. were dark tobacco. The rejections of January 1st to September 30th this year were 6,504 hhds. against 7,324 hhds. rejected during corresponding period last year. Total receipts January 1st to September 30th, 1909, were 51,420 hhds. against 75,711 hhds. received during corresponding period of last year.

Total stocks in this market on September 30th, 1909, were 17,830 hhds. against 32,998 hhds. held at close of September, 1908. Stocks increased during September 338 hhds.

Female Philanthropists.

Over thirty millions of dollars were given by women to philanthropy during the past year. Mrs. Russell Sage gave more than any other one person with the single exception of John D. Rockefeller. While some of her gifts are not large they mean much to some young people. She recently gave $2,700 to pay the rent of the school building of the Pascal institute in New York city and to cover the expenses of free vacation classes for young children. To Sag Harbor, L. I., she gave the fair grounds to be turned into a park especially for the children. When the citizens proposed changing the name of the village to Sage Harbor she declared that the old place should cling to its original name.

Animals Behind Targets.

From the London Chronicle. The experiment of placing dogs on board the obsolete French warship Jena the other day before battering her with projectiles was cruel; nevertheless, we should remember that we were once guilty in a very similar case.

This was in 1872 when sheep and goats were shut up in the turret of H. M. S. Glatton, which was then pounded by the Hotspur with her heavy guns. The turret was not bierced, while the animals it contained were found at the conclusion of the bombardment to be uninfured. Their experience, therefore, was a pleasant one compared with that of the animals in the Jena, most of whom were either burned to death or asphyxiated, while those that escaped alive were driven mad by great terror.

The Local Paper.

The Burns (Tenn.) New Idea makes a strong plea for the local paper in the home, viz:

"The local paper should be found in every home. It is the stepping stone to intelligence among the children of our country. Give your children a foreign paper which contains a lot of stuff they know nothing about, and things about places they never saw or heard tell of, how can you expect them to be interested? But let them have the home paper and read about things they can see every day and people they know and something that will be interesting to them and see how they will watch the arrival of the home paper each week. Thus a habit of reading is formed which makes them intelligent men and women, a credit to their ancestors and strong in the knowledge of the world as it is to-day."

Don't forget that living for all is the aim of all living.

Short Stops.

Every man has a right to his own opinion, but that is no reason why he should not keep it to himself once in awhile.

A boy wearing his first long pants contrives to have a great many errands downtown.

The ordinary man thinks the heathen have an awful good time on the money he donates for them.

The ordinary man would state, if pressed, that he thinks his singing voice is superb.

Too many of us confuse our own stubbornness with strength of character and makes nuisances of ourselves.

We must all admire the intellectual swiftness of the chronic liar who is able to lie out of his lies.

Lots of men would run for congress if they were not bashful about wearing frock coats and silk hats.

It is true that all wealth comes from labor, but not necessarily from labor by hands. The thinkers of the world have added inestimably to its development. It was a portrait painter who invented the telegraph, a college professor who produced the telephone, and the list might be extended almost indefinitely. It is well that to-day, with all our indulgence in rest and play, that we remember that it is intelligently directed energy of what ever kind which makes man better and helps along the world to the millennial dawn.

Don't For Churchmen.

Don't fail to observe that he who knows only faces has no friends.

Don't try to open the windows to life's sunshine unless you have sympathy.

Don't forget that where your life does not teach your teaching cannot live.

Don't neglect your works if you would have your wings take care of themselves.

Don't imitate men who miss the spirit of the law by making most of the letter.

Don't fail to learn that the farther your life reaches the deeper its roots will strike.

Don't try to lead the world to a better life by looking like an undertaker on Sunday.

Don't expect to succeed in gaining into rest in the church until you have some principal there.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR MAGISTRATE.

I am a candidate for magistrate in the sixth District of Adair county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

J. M. Willis.

In the last issue of the News we stated that Hon. L. T. Neat, the Republican nominee for the State Senate in this district, was not eligible to the office for the reason that he was a citizen of New Mexico less than six years ago. We also stated that the district committee had been called to meet at Monticello to name another candidate. The committee met according to the call on Thursday and Mr. Neat's eligibility was discussed. Finally, a motion prevailed that he was eligible for State Senator, and the committee, as we are informed, voted unanimously to that effect. Mr. Neat was before the committee and stated that he had never been a citizen of New Mexico. At present it looks like Mr. Neat's name will go on the ballot as the Republican candidate for said position. The Constitution of Kentucky says that a man can't hold the office of State Senator unless he has been a citizen thereof for six years.

LATER—The Republican committee in session here Saturday received the resignation of Mr. Neat and L. C. Nell, also of this county, was nominated and his name will go on the ballot under the Republican device.

A hanging of unusual interest took place at Wilkesbarre, Pa., last week. Stanley Nazarko was condemned to die. Just before the execution his wife came to the jail with the man she intended to marry after the death of her husband. They requested to be given permission to witness the hanging, but the request was refused, although the condemned man wanted his wife and her future husband to see him die. Just before the execution Nazarko handed his wife, in the presence of her intended husband and a priest his will bequeathing her his savings of $1,200. He then bade his wife and her prospective husband farewell, expressing the hope that his wife had made a wise selection.

Judge William Lindsey, one of Kentucky's greatest lawyers, at one time Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, a former United States Senator from this State, died in Frankfort last Friday morning. Many prominent men from all sections of the country attended the funeral.

Mr. John G. Pulliam, editor of the Harrodsburg Herald, shot and mortally wounded J. W. Robards, a contractor of that city, last Wednesday. The shooting occurred in the Herald office, Robards having entered, fired and wounded Pulliam before the latter shot. Robards accused Pulliam of being too intimate with one of his relatives. Pulliam denies the accusation, and it is believed that his assailant was not in his right mind when the attack was made. Pulliam is well-known to the newspaper fraternity of the State.

Absher.

The rain which fell Sunday was somewhat refreshing.

Miss Nona Chapman, near Garlin, is spending a few days with her cousins, Emma and Clara Robertson.

Mr. J. H. Martin is on the sick list.

Mr. J. W. Moore, of Vester, spent Saturday night with his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Chapman were the guests of H. B. Robertson and family Sunday and Sunday night.

Messrs. Curtis Absher and W. O. Murrell were at Mr. J. D. Absher's Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hendrickson were at Wm. P. Dillingham's a few days of last week.

Mrs. Z. T. Gabbert was a Mary A. Brockman's Saturday night.

The Masonic Lodge at Egypt has reorganized.

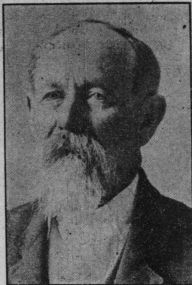

The many friends of Mrs. H. B. Robertson gave her a surprise birthday dinner Oct. 10. In spite of the torrent of rain which fell the crowd began to gather and all seemed to enjoy themselves. A bounteous dinner was spread consisting of pies, cakes, ham, chicken and many other delightful things. After dinner the evening was spent in talking and laughing and some very fine singing. Mrs. Robertson received many nice presents for which she returns her thanks. Those present were: Messrs. Rufus DeFevers, J. D. Absher, G. D. Bryant, J. W. Moore, W. H. Cave, D. P. Rice, Matthew Robertson, Frank Renfro, Osey Dillingham, J. C. Absher, Howard Russell, W. O. Murrell, Curtis Absher, Johnny and Coy Brockman, June Bryant and Otis Moore; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. S. Absher, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Russell, Mrs. Mary L. Chapman, Mrs. Agatha Gabbert, Mrs. Mary A. Brockman, Mrs. Abb Brockman, Mrs. L. L. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Humphress, Misses Bettie Bryant, Judelle and Annie Robertson, Bertha and Audra Dillingham, Arva and Cleo Cave, Altha Absher, Nona Chapman, Mary Moore, Flora and Elsa Morris, Grace Gabbert, Fannie Brockman, Sylvia Humphres, Rebecca Brockman. The little children were—Annie, Rollin, Gladys and Carrie Morris, Elsie and Robert Chapman.

Notice.

At the regular election for Adair county, Ky., held on the 2nd day of November, 1909, at the regular polling place, in voting district, No. 13, of said county, known as the Case Valley voting district, a poll will be opened and an election held, for the purpose of ascertaining the will of voters of said district upon the question whether or not they wish cattle or any species thereof to run at large in said district. This election will be held and this notice is given by virtue of an order of the Adair county court, made at a term of said court held on the 24th day of August, 1909.

Birthday Dinner.

On Saturday, Oct. 8th, 1909, quite a number of friends and relatives met at the home of Mr. James N. Fletcher with well-filled baskets which had been prepared at their homes for a birthday dinner for Mrs. Fletcher, it being her 24th birthday. Though young and having not lived in the neighborhood but a short time she has proven to be a good neighbor and a devoted member of the U. B. church and is ever ready to serve the church in any capacity she can. She received many useful presents. Her pastor, Rev. J. F. Turner, was present to enjoy the many delicacies to her and her many friends.

To The Voters of Adair County.

I am a candidate for the office of assessor, subject to the action of the legal voters of Adair county. I was defeated in the Republican primary by Mr. J. M. Wolford by means and methods used by him which were forbidden by our committee and which gave him an undue advantage and really and truly rendered his nomination void. I lived within the requirements of the committee and would not have further presented my claims had I been defeated by upright and honest methods. Since my opponent failed to keep his agreement I feel released from my obligation and feel it my duty and privilege to appeal to Mr. Wolford.

I am a Republican but believe in fair, honest politics. My Republican friends in the upper part of the county, where we both live, are with me, by a large majority, in this race and they are as true as any men, but not willing to see the party dragged into the mire of political corruption. I expect to cause the county and see as many of the voters as possible before the election. If elected I will perform the duties of the office fair and impartially.

Respectfully,
W. J. Bottom.

Plum Point.

We have just had a good rain that settled the dust for us and softened the ground which pleased the farmers very much who were thinking of sowing wheat.

The party at Mr. Wheeler's last Saturday night was largely attended and a nice time reported.

Miss Annie Smith, who has been visiting in this neighborhood left Mr. G. R. Fesse's last Sunday for her home in Columbia. We understand that she was aiming to go to Gradyville to teach school this week.

Mr. Frost visited us very freely one night last week which made us think of getting our winter wood.

The wife of Mr. John Barnett died last Tuesday. She leaves a husband and three children to mourn their loss. We understand that Mrs. Barnett was sick a long time and a great sufferer.

Mr. John Edd Burton was elected trustee last Saturday at the meeting of the School trustees at Little Cake for this district which is known as Watson district.

Green river and Casey creek have both been very low for some time which pleased the fishermen very much.

Rev. B. H. Henderson will preach at Mt. Carmel next Sunday. We understand that he has made his arrangements to preach at that place once a month.

There are several cases of diphtheria in this neighborhood at present.

Corn crops are not as good this year as usual which we think is due to having too much rain for a while and then not enough.

Mr. G. R. Fesse sold two mules to W. B. Dalworth one day last week. Price unknown.

We have been looking for Mr. Joe Hurt and his partner to come back to work on the telephone, but we now supposed the wild cats have bluffed them and they are afraid to come back.

Mr. Melvin Jones and sons, have been doing a nice piece of sawing on the farm of W. F. Fesse. It will take them about one month to complete the job.

The candidates for the November election seem to be doing their best.

Some of the farmers are stripping their tobacco. We hope they will get a good price for it, although as a general thing we find it not as good as usual.

Bro. Cloyd and son closed a meeting at this place a few days ago.

The boys of this place are finding lots of squirrels to kill.

Several of the farmers have been making molasses during the past few days.

Mr. Joe Beard of Jerico, is having a new store house built. We wish Mr. Beard a good trade, hoping he will get his house completed in time to sell candy and fire crackers to the boys during Christmas.

We have understood that a mad dog passed through this part of the country a few days ago.

The political speaking at Jerico last Friday night was largely attended. The speakers were Yarberry, Tarter, Stults and Price.

Mr. Badboy the picture man has been doing some work in this neighborhood during the past few days.

Born to the wife of Mr. Charlie Walker, a girl.

Mr. Ambrus Wheeler made a trip to Columbia last Wednesday.

Mr. J. G. Humphrey, Knifley, visited our school last Thursday He being on his way to see his sick mother.

Played it to the Limit.

Many writers have declared that an Irish peasant's hospitality is unlimited, but this is a slight exaggeration as is shown by a story borrowed from a book of Irish anecdotes. A young man of the name of Jerry McCarrie was often the guest of friends on account of his plentiful ways extended to him that sort of Irish hospitality which enabled a visitor in his own family who came for a fortnight to stay for six years.

In McCarrie's case the visit stretched to nearly double that time. For eight or nine years, however, his guest man got a little tired of his guest and let him know of his old mansion's proposed renovation and that he had signed a contract for having it painted from garret to cellar.

"By George," said Jerry, "it's fortunate that I don't object to the smell of paint, and it will be well to have some one to keep an eye on the painters now that the wall fruit is ripening."

Some months passed. Then his host informed him that he was going to be married, adding, "I thought I'd tell you in good time, so that you could make leisurely preparations to go, as the lady and you may not hit it off as well as you and I do."

With fearful eyes Jerry grasped his cousin's hand, saying:

"Oh, Dan, dear, you have my hearty thanks for your consideration; but, dear, dear boy, surely if you can put up with her I can."

Woodchopping as a Sport.

In Tasmania it is to be found a national passion that is special and particular to that state alone—the sport of wood chopping. It says much for the grit and vigor of Tasmanians that this really serious and arduous work should be regarded as the finest sport. At Hobart and Launceston they have their wood chopping meetings, their cricket, football, golf, cycling, and so forth, but to a woodchopping contest people will flock from far and near—men, women and children—and watch the ax wielders hewing away at huge blocks of timber as if life and reputation depended upon the issue. Thud, thud, thud, go the axes, and the splinters fly in all directions, the judges calmly sitting near, taking notes of the strokes, the spectators cheering the competitors from time to time as frantically as if they were race horses. To be a woodchopping champion means something to a man in Tasmania.—Dundee Advertiser.

Look Prosperous or Pay in Advance.

"While there is a good deal of the American spirit prevailing in Sydney and Melbourne, they do things there in a peculiar way," said a traveling man. "It is hard to get used to them."

"They have excellent restaurants there, but they run on a peculiar plan. A man goes in and sits down at a table, and a waiter, generally a woman, hands him the bill of fare. He makes out his order on a slip, and before he is waited on the waiter goes to the cashier and has a little private talk with him. The cashier looks over at the customer, and if he appears to be good for the bill he is served; otherwise he is asked to pay in advance. The meals are good and cheap. The same careful scrutiny is made when a fellow registers at a hotel. Good looks will go further than any amount of baggage."—Omaha Bee.

Clear Waste.

"He has a quick temper, you know," was the excuse given by a friend for a boy's rude act.

"Is he quick at his lessons?" was the question.

"No," was the reply.

"Is he quick at sports?" the questioner went on.

Again the answer was "No."

"Is he quick in obedience?"

"No."

"Well," said the questioner, with a twinkle in his eye, "if he has so little quickness he'd better use it where it will do him some good. It's clear waste to put it on his temper."

The Town of Bushire.

Residents of a miserable seaport on the Persian gulf called their town Bushire (Boosheer). It has narrow, dirty, ill paved streets. The city is visited by earthquakes and simooms and stinks its children of wholesome air and fresh water. It appears, however, to have enjoyed high repute among the ancient Egyptians, who have left buried about under moldering bricks with various inscriptions. In summer the citizens of Bushire live in a heat that is almost unbearable.

Her Borrow.

"Papa," sobbed small Sadie, "my candy is d-died!"

"Never mind, dear," replied her father, "I'll buy you another one."

"Oh, I'm e'en now," rejoined Sadie, "but when I first saw the poor little thing I cried like a child."—Exchange.

After the Race.

"So your horse was distanced, was he?"

"Yes."

"Did you have anything on him?"

"I thought I had a peck on him, but it seems I didn't."

Times to Laugh.

A—Is the old man always so glum as this? B—By no means. He laughs twice a year, spring and fall, when the new women's hats come in.—File code Blatter.

Jo Thomas and wife were visiting friends in this country last week.

Jas. Pelley attended singing at Popular Grove Sunday.

A mining expert from Tennessee, has found an iron mine on the farm of J. F. Pelley, he also found a vein of copper. We have seen both and are convinced that it is some kind of metal. Anyone that don't believe this are invited to call and be shown.

T. J. Rubarts and son, have returned to Missouri, where they will make their future home.

Miss Carrie Pierce who is attending school at Russell Springs, visited her mother Mrs. Kate Price last week.

Misses Maggie and Florence Rubarts, were at Russell Springs last week.

Mrs. Sam Ford is visiting her father, Mr. Sweeney who is very sick.

We have always known that the Republicans claimed credit for abundant rainfall bumper crops, sunshine and also gave us poor Democrats the privilege to live. But I must confess that I was paralyzed to hear one of the aforesaid party, an educated one, that claimed and attempted to prove from history that Thomas Jefferson was the founder of what is now the Republican party. He could not prove it, neither could I convince him that he was wrong. What should I do to show him he is wrong and bring him to the ways of righteousness? If some one don't prescribe quick he will be lost.

Miss Vera Dickinson is visiting relatives at Linnie.

Boss Combest lost about 45 bushels of wheat and some plows etc., by fire that was stored in an out building.

Mr. Neal is building a nice house on Damron creek, which will soon be completed.

Some lumber men from Greensburg are buying poplar logs and constructing a raft on Green river at the mouth of Short creek.

Warren Sallee of near Columbia, passed through here enroute to Yosemite on business.

With Pelley & Ross' iron and lead mine and a Republican administration to guide us we expect a great wave of prosperity in this country soon.

It's a Top Notch Doer.

Great deeds compel regard. The world crowns its doers. That's why the American people have crowned Dr. King's New Discovery the King of Throat and Lung remedies. Every atom is a health force. It kills germs, and cures colds and grippe. It heals cough-racked membranes and coughing slopes. Sore, inflamed, bronchial tubes and lungs are cured and hemorrhages cease. Dr. Geo. Moore, Black Jack, N. C., writes, "It cured me of lung trouble, pronounced hopeless by all doctors." 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Peull Drug Co.

Weed.

We are having some dry dusty weather at present.

Sorghum making is the order of the day in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee B. Morris are visiting Mrs. Morris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Moore, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey, of Breeding, spent Tuesday night with their sister, Mrs. J. H. Moore.

The singing at Big Creek is progressing nicely under the management of Prof. Curt Keltner.

Mr. George Cole sold a cow and calf to Mr. John Gilpin for $28.

Mr. Lee Moore, son of N. J. Moore, who has been at Campbellsville for some time was married a few weeks ago to a Miss Burris, of near that place. He and his wife are visiting his parents and other relatives at this place.

Mr. Vishue Nelson, of this place, and Miss Oreene Coomer, of Basil, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Coomer, Thursday in the presence of a few of their relatives and friends. Rev. George Compton officiating.

Mr. Warn Compton and wife, of Rocky Hill Station, were visiting J. O. Moore Thursday night and attended the soldiers meeting.

Mr. Killis Compton, of Indiana, is visiting his brother and other relatives and friends in the Basil community this week.

Mrs. Amanda Bragg spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Haden Keltner, and her sister, Mrs. J. L. Moore.

Mr. Cleve Wilson, of Metcalfe county, attended the old soldiers meeting at this place last Tuesday and Wednesday.

The old soldiers meeting at this place last Tuesday and Wednesday was a success. It was largely attended both days. They had good order. Mr. Strong Hill furnished an organ and Prof. Keltner with his class did some fine singing. Several preachers were present and delivered some fine sermons. The old soldiers gave in their experiences, and a general good time was had by all present. Many thoughts were dropped that I trust will lodge in the minds of the young people that will never be forgotten.

Wanted.—Butter, 20c per pound; Irish potatoes, 60c per bushel, and cabbage at the Lindsey-Wilson.

Messrs. G. W. Rubarts, W. O. Pelley and J. P. Coffey were in Columbia last week.

Jamestown.

The Sunday School Convention was held here yesterday, according to arrangement, and it was certainly a success, as regard to remarks from different ones, as well as the music. Prof. Barnes from Russell Springs made some very interesting remarks, his language well chosen and pleasing. We were especially pleased with Prof. Wesley's idea, as "How to study the Sunday School lesson." We had several good talks by Pres. Knight and others. Mr. Bertram's remarks in regard to the children were very good. The solo rendered by Mrs. Smart, of Burnside, was certainly beautiful.

Mrs. Bernard's school assisted by Miss Roxey Falkenburg is progressing nicely. As we see the children passing to and fro it reminds us of our happy school days. But all days cannot be bright and beautiful—into every life some clouds must fall. We would be glad now to see a cloud that would bring rain, that would fill our wells and water barrels.

Miss Kate Simpson is on the sick list.

All the bachelors and widowers had on there best looks last week, also the boys were gallant and polite—as they should be. The lunch at the church was all that a lunch should be and all together it was a profitable and enjoyable day.

Two hundred night riders burned the tobacco barn of Edward Johnson at Willow, Ky. Fifteen thousand pounds of tobacco was destroyed. Mr. Johnson was notified to pool his tobacco, but failed to do so. The telephone lines to Brooksville were cut.

When a girl wants to take the reins she knows what she is driving at.

Woman's Friend

Nearly all women suffer at times from female ailments. Some women suffer more acutely and more constantly than others. But whether you have little pain or whether you suffer intensely, you should take Wine of Cardui and get relief.

Cardui is a safe, natural medicine, for women, prepared scientifically from harmless vegetable ingredients. It acts easily on the female organs and gives strength and tone to the whole system.

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Verna Wallace, of Sanger, Tex., tried Cardui. She writes: "Cardui has done more for me than I can describe. Last spring I was taken with female inflammation and consulted a doctor, but to no avail, so I took Cardui, and inside of three days, I was able to do my housework. Since then my trouble has never returned." Try it.

Sis Hopkins' Saying.

BY ROSE MELVILLE.

A surgeon is naturally anesthetic person.

When a man is surrounded by gold he is in a happy frame of mind.

When a woman meets a man "after her own heart," she naturally expects that he shouldn't be after somebody else.

When Fattening Turkeys.

It is a mistake to depend upon corn alone when fattening turkeys. A variety is better.

Potatoes, swedes, mangolds, boiled soft and mixed with a little oats, barley meal, buckwheat meal or common cornmeal constitute good fattening foods.

The French fatten with beet root, artichokes or potatoes, boiled and mixed with meal, and give acorns, chestnuts and walnuts. The latter they consider add a delicious flavor to the meat.

While being, fattened turkeys they will begin to lose flesh and should have plenty of ventilation and fresh air in their coops and there should be plenty of grit, sand and lime rubbish to aid digestion. They should also have all the clean water they will drink.

A popular American method of fattening is to give a morning mash of cornmeal, barley meal or buckwheat meal, mixed with skim milk; a few sweet potatoes can be added. At noon give cracked corn, buckwheat or barley and at night give whole or cracked corn with an occasional feed of buckwheat.

It is best not to coop turkeys during fattening, as they are apt to lose their appetites and become sickly.

If fed all they will eat three times a day they are not inclined to roam, but will sit around quietly.

Turkeys intended for the later markets should not be so heavily fed as those intended for sale in a few weeks.

They should be killed at once when ready for the market, as they will begin to lose flesh and prove unprofitably if kept over this time.—M. K. Boyer.
